Please note the following excerpts from the Committee Guidance Notes:

Venue

The venue for the Fringe is a garden adjacent to Bude Wharf. A pergola or small marquee provides a stage area and protects artists and instruments from the weather. When possible, a PA system is provided. The venue is decorated with bunting, flags and posters. The venue is stewarded, with committee members administering a pre-arranged programme of artists. Buckets are available to collect funds for the festival.

Audience

Our audience are mainly drop-ins, from canal walks, etc. They come for coffees or food, not necessarily for music, so although usually attentive they can be noisy.

Artists

It is essential that performers are of sufficient quality to represent the festival to the public. For this reason artists are only included in the Fringe by invitation of the festival committee, following a fair application process. The Fringe is not a come-all-ye. Even with a sound system the environment is just not suitable for all artists. It requires performers with the experience, performance style and confidence to perform in front of a potentially difficult open-air audience. The committee reserves the right to decline any artist application. All applications must be received by 12th Feb, and invitations to perform will be issued shortly after.

Church

On Saturday, Sunday and Monday afternoons there are 'Open Mic' Sessions in the church. These are not part of the Fringe. They are 'come-all-ye' for anyone who wishes to perform. These can include established artists (by invitation), regulars at their local folk club, or those seeking exposure with a view to being invited to perform in another capacity in the future. (e.g. in the Fringe). Artists seeking experience may be better advised to perform at a church Open Mic Session than in the Fringe.
